Suggested time: 75 Minutes

What's important in this lesson:

In this lesson you are developing specific research skills on the internet as you explore the question of whether hockey has had an impact on the Canadian identity.

Complete these steps:

1. A double-entry journal is a journal in which you
 - a) make one entry thinking about a topic, and then
 - b) make a later entry re-thinking the topic.Make the first entry in your double-entry journal by responding to this question: "Is hockey a part of our Canadian identity?"
2. You will begin to research the game of hockey – is hockey a part of the Canadian identity.
 - Begin by researching the 1972, Canada-Russia Series and Paul Henderson's winning goal.
 - On the internet, type in www.archives@cbc.ca. When you are the site, search for the Canada-Russia series, 1972. A number of boxes should appear. Click on "7 'God is Canadian' " to view a clip of the winning goal.
 - You may also use the key words "hockey and the Canadian identity" to help with your research.
 - Make research notes. These will be handed in.
3. When you have completed your research, make the second entry in your double-entry journal by responding to this question: "Is it important for Canada to have a distinct identity?"

Hand-in the following to your teacher:

1. Research notes
2. Double-entry journal containing responses to two questions
